

MEMORANDUM

TO: Hampton Planning Commission

FROM: Henry Godfrey, Senior Youth Planner

DATE: April 16, 2026

SUBJECT: April Planning Commission Memo

During March, the commissioners had the Mary Washington Conference, which was an event that focused on climate change and making an impact to better our environment.

Another event that was notable within the month of March was the Skate No Hate. This was a chance for the community to come together, enjoy a night of fun, and connect with each other in a positive way.

During our meeting, we worked on data trainings. These interactions describe the types of data that we tend to use on a regular basis (quantitative and qualitative), as well as the differences, definitions, and how we can apply them in our commission.

Over the course of the month, the commission have been finalizing and making updates on the Youth Masterplan Surveys, which has stemmed from the feedback that they've received from students and other participants alike.

This month also starts the Commission's focus groups, which is where the commissioners meet up with many organizations within the City of Hampton, to talk about select solutions and create solutions to them. In the process, the Commissioners had the opportunity to make new connections and network for future relationships.

Some upcoming events that the Commission has coming up towards the end of this month:

- Teen Town Hall-connecting with other groups in Hampton about the Youth Masterplan
- Clean Sweep- opportunity for commission to help out the City and receive time towards volunteer hours
