

WOMEN IN PUBLIC SERVICE CONFERENCE

"People, Purpose & Passion: Partners in Progress"

When passion and purpose align with people who share your vision, you can achieve anything! That's the empowering message we hope to deliver to conference attendees through a series of regular and mini sessions, and keynotes.

Hampton Fire & Rescue is proud to host the 11th Annual WIPS Conference in Hampton, Virginia on Thursday and Friday, September 19-20, 2019. Registration opens July 15.

We're busy working to provide you with excellent educational opportunities and a little fun too. See you at the conference!

Who Should Attend

Public service personnel at all levels and from all departments—fire & rescue, law enforcement, administrative, civilian, and uniformed, men and women.

- Learn about the challenges faced by women in the workforce, and their real world solutions
- Strengthen your leadership skills
- Expand your network of professional women
- Share your inspiration
- Champion "change" on behalf of women

Why Should Men Attend

Having a better understanding of the challenges faced by your female employees, coworkers, and colleagues can improve your work relationships and interactions. The conference has traditionally been well-supported by men from all areas of public service, and we hope that you will choose to join us this year.
